DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

2. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Xie (U.S. Patent No. 6,373,604) in view of Wong et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,208,444, from hereinafter "Wong").

Xie discloses an optical multiplexing/demultiplexing transmission system with a frequency allocation scheme for optical channels via a WDM transmission line with alternating left side and right side filtering for adjacent channels, where the two sets of channels are orthogonally polarized (abstract; col. 5, lines 55-67). Furthermore this system also has a transmitter function comprising polarized light sources, modulators, and wavelength multiplexers, and a receiver function having a polarization demultiplexer, a wavelength demultiplexer, filters, and electrical receivers (fig. 1).

However, the reference fails to specifically disclose alternating channel spacing of A and B, such that $A < B$.

Wong discloses a WDM device where alternating channel spacings are such that one is greater than the other (col. 2, line 65 – col. 3, line 16) .

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have specified unequal channel spacing since one would be motivated by the lower cost of interferometric devices by using first stage device devices having good flatness and low cross-talk (col. 3, lines 29-33). Furthermore, the separation of channels of different spacings can be individually received by a receiver that is not wavelength selective (col. 3, lines 33-41), which allows more efficient transmission of optical signals and maximizes enhancing the multiplexing process (col. 3, lines 7-15).

Double Patenting

3. The terminal disclaimer filed on 19 August 2003 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 2 is allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: As the claims were read and interpreted in light of specification, the prior art of record fails to specifically disclose two sets of orthogonal polarized channels that are shifted verses each other by a value of $A/2 + \delta_{\text{filter}}$, +/- 20%.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 19 August 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments fail to comply with 37 CFR 1.111(b) because they amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references. It is clear that the Xie reference discloses "left-side and right-side filtering for adjacent channels" in the abstract ("odd and even") and throughout the disclosure (see above rejection).

Applicant's arguments also do not comply with 37 CFR 1.111(c) because they do not clearly point out the patentable novelty which he or she thinks the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made. Further, they do not show how the amendments avoid such references or objections. Applicant merely alleges that the references do not teach the limitations in the claims and then asserts that "even assuming, arguendo," that it does, Applicant continues to allege that there is no teaching for another limitation.

In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971). In this case, there is motivation clearly cited from the Wong reference to warrant such a combination (see above rejection).

Therefore, Examiner holds to the validity of the references and maintains rejection.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

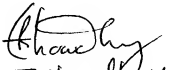

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
